

Berkeley rated best small management consultancy in “Best Small Companies to Work For 2017” list

We are delighted that, following the 2017 announcement, Berkeley remains in the top 100 ‘Best Small Companies to Work For’ list.

This is the fifth year that we have been recognised for this prestigious award and retained our top tier 3* rating which acknowledges excellence in the workplace. The list, which gauges workplace engagement and satisfaction through a comprehensive employee survey, examines views on company leadership, team dynamics, the strength of an employee’s affiliation to their firm, personal growth prospects, reward and recognition, overall wellbeing and pressure levels at work, and approach to CSR.

Over 850 organisations registered to take part in this year’s survey so the competition was fierce. Once again, we were thrilled to be the highest ranked management consultancy, which we feel highlights just why Berkeley is so different to work both for and with.

We scored highly across all areas. Our core business premise of ‘doing the right thing for our clients’ again featured as a key message and remains an aspect of Berkeley that we feel strongly about. Our collaborative and focused environment stimulates our people and encourages them to go the extra mile for our clients.

“We’re thrilled to be recognised, once again, as being one of the best small companies – and the best small management consultancy – to work for in the UK. We strive to provide our people with a supportive, enjoyable environment that enables them to reach their full potential. Our aspirations for the future are high – we want to ensure Berkeley continues to be recognised for demonstrating excellence in the workplace.” Tom Keohane, Partner

